Northern California Carpenters Union

Working with the Northern California Carpenters Union, PIA has established a new enterprise that provides California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) inmates the opportunity to obtain employment upon release. In the process of acquiring valuable building trade skills, inmates produce modular buildings constructed to the highest structural standards, which are fully inspected by the Department of Housing and Community Development.

Inmates working in the Modular Building Enterprise participate in the newly established Career Technical Education Carpentry training program. They gain experience in carpentry, welding, electrical, forklift operations, plumbing, and concrete pouring. Classroom as well as onthe-job training gives inmates skills that can be readily used to obtain meaningful employment upon release.

After completion, paroling inmates are eligible for placement in a full-scale apprenticeship program offered by the Carpenters Training Committee for Northern California. Inmates will be earning wages and benefits while participating in the post-release apprenticeship program.

An inmate's successful re-entry builds safer communities, reduces recidivism and saves the taxpayers' money.

Prison Industry Authority

Prison Industry Authority provides productive work experience for inmates in California's adult correctional institutions. PIA's work programs teach job skills and reduce idleness. A self-sufficient operation, PIA works without a State budget appropriation.

PIA operates over 60 service, manufacturing, and agricultural industries at 22 prisons throughout California.
